Dear Mr. Brown:

Thanks your for providing background information on the Health and Welfare report about persons disabled by environmental sensitivities. It was with much pleasure that I read the newspaper clipping you enclosed and the list of Members of Parliament who were especially helpful in this matter.

This report will certainly encourage medical respect and support of people whose health is affected by everyday pollution. You can be assured I will keep the needs of these people in mind during any future discussion on the subject.

Thank you, once again, for keeping me informed. I hope the report clears up many misconceptions that exist about these illnesses.

Sincerely,

Mac Harb, MP
